Land Rover Series I II

The Land Rover Series I, II, and III, or simply the Land Rover, are British off-road vehicles produced by the Rover Company, and later British Leyland. The Land Rover was the first mass-produced civilian four-wheel drive car with doors on it. In 1992, Land Rover claimed that 70% of all the vehicles they had built were still in use. Most series models feature leaf-spring suspension with selectable two or four-wheel drive, however series I's produced between 1948 and mid-1951 had constant 4WD via
