On 19 December 1154 King Henry II was crowned at Westminster Abbey. He could be regarded as one of England's greatest monarchs after inheriting and uniting a ruined and divided kingdom before earning a fearsome reputation as an empire builder on the continent. The husband of the formidable Eleanor of Aquitaine and father of John and Richard the Lionheart, Henry's action-packed reign gave rise to England's position as a European power to be reckoned with.
